THE PRESENT.

The many, many trophies gleaming on numerous shelves on campus attest to the success and glory of the first five years of Monte Vista's existence. The fine awards above represent exceptional performances in many activities.

Completed last year, the brick letters in front of the school are the work of a diligent and determined student body. The snarling Irving de Leonardo issues a defiant challenge to opponents at sports events.

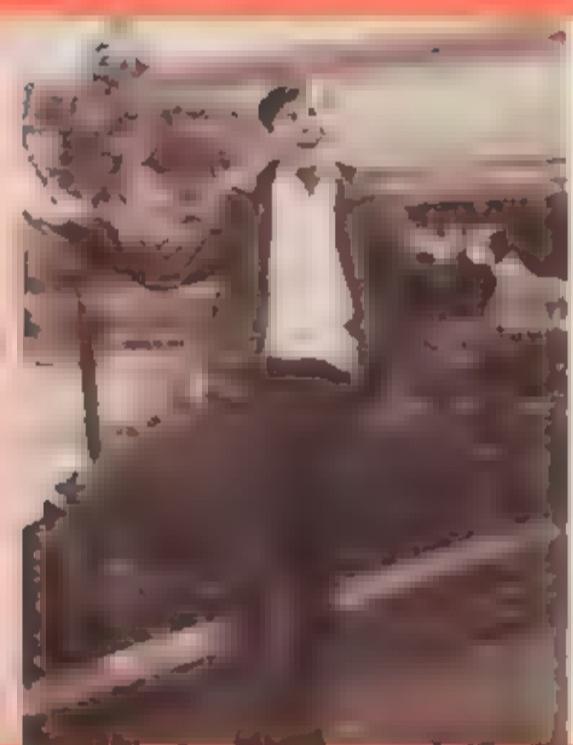

On graduation day, a student stands poised between the old, familiar ways of his childhood and the fascinating, yet ominous, prospects of the future. Behind him lie memories of security and love - strong friendships, and parents offering protection from the "bad kids down the street." Ahead lies a haze of hopes to be realized, fears to be conquered, and doubts of his ability to succeed. Apprehensively, he may wonder with what tasks his twelve years of education will be challenged.

Bruce Masse, A.S.B. President, presides over the assemblies and commission meetings, accepts all gifts and awards in the name of the A.S.B., and represents Monte Vista at the Grossmont Executive Council meetings.

Ron VanderWielan, Commissioner of Sales, is in charge of the game and dance tickets, movie ties, and concessions. Janet Wache, Commissioner of Publications, prepares and promotes the sale of athletic programs. Commissioner of Pep Pot Co. also supervises the Senior Benchwarmers, Pep Club, and all cheerleader activities. Commissioner of Finance Jerry Nierengarten is responsible for A.S.B. card sales and the A.S.B. funds.

MV EXECUTIVES

Bruce Masse, ASB President, aided by the student council and the ten commissioners, keeps Monte Vista's many activities running smoothly. The games, dances, assemblies, relations with other schools and the community, school expenses, on-campus advertising, and souvenir programs, and various other aspects of student life are carried on by, or with the supervision and cooperation of, the ASB with the help of Mr. Gray, ASB advisor.

In addition to spending many hours outside of school to fulfill their never-ending duties, these hard-working Monarchs interpret school policy where necessary and enforce the school constitution. In the student government class they learn the purposes and procedures of government, their responsibilities as citizens, and the fortitude required in tomorrow's leaders from the school to national levels.

Ron Bayless, A.S.B. Vice President, presides over the student council meetings, assumes president's duties in Bruce's absence, and takes charge of the Nominating Convention. Mr. Gray, A.S.B. advisor, teaches the student government class and works closely with the officers and commissioners. A.S.B. Secretary Debbie Newak records and publishes all proceedings of the commissions. Commissioner of Judicial Affairs Pat Devereaux acts as a non-voting moderator of the Citizenship Board and plans homecoming events.

Julie Vandehey, Commissioner of Publicity, is responsible for the excellent posters and banners at Monte Vista. One of the busy Commissioner of General Affairs Bob Sandoval's many varied duties is supervising all plans and procedures for dances.

Tori Inness-Brown, Commissioner of Girls' Activities and president of the Girls' League, organizes special programs for all Monarch girls. Dave Brown, Commissioner of Boys' Activities and president of the Boys' Federation, plans the sports banquets.

Not everyone at the graduation ceremony of the class of 1966 was satisfied with Mr. DeLoach's speech. Most of the 1000 students present the next week to restore some dignity to the school's graduation ceremony.

POMPous POLITICIANS PREVAIL

As candidates nervously await the outcome of the hotly-tracked midterm election, David Meyer wants to be an example for underrepresented desegregationists to re-examine.

Dr. M. F. Ettelson, giving the commencement address, speaks on the importance of democracy.

A not-so-nice Mr. Grey advises Leon Bawless and his devoted followers in a case of error. Grace Massie, who is aware of the destructive potential of the class of '66.

Sergeants at Arms have Brown the A. S. Club to prepare to retire a departing senior Donald Storten, who was not a delegate. One was soon honorably reinstated.

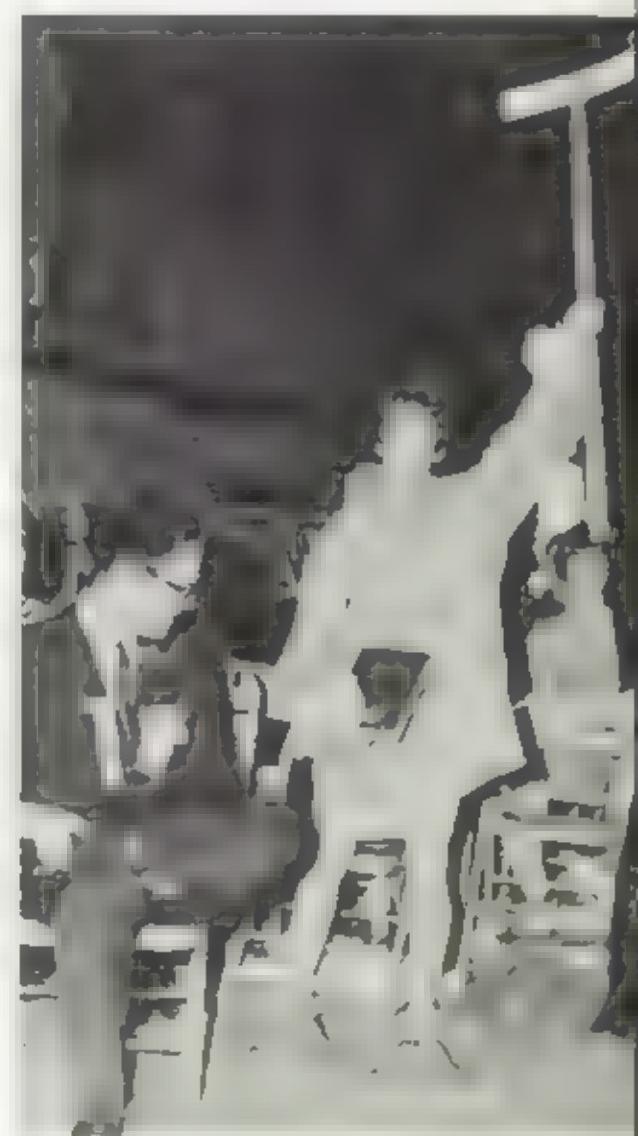

In a comfortable Eastman chair, Betty Weis catches up on dreams. Next to her is the no-cannette Stock. Alice Whittington promises to follow today's example.

FOR THE 6TH STRAIGHT YEAR

Seniors Steve Ting, and Mike Dypvik are staunch supporters of Watermelon Rose's candidate for A.S.D. Secretary. To the right Iwata, a distinguished author and member of the Hawaii delegation, adds her endorsement of Rose's many talents.

Junior Bo-De Shetton arrives from the Islands with the largest water floatie just in time to change to new season attire.

GIRLS' AND BOYS' STATE

RUTH

Ruth Logsdon spent June 21 until June 29 at the University of California at Davis, where 560 girls lived in four brand new dorms. Each dorm was a county, and each of the four floors was a city. Ruth and her fellow citizens of Crocker City in Larkin County called themselves the 'Crocker Jacks'. Ruth was elected Chairman of the Board of Supervisors in Larkin County and was the Verification Deputy for the Whig gubernatorial candidate.

The meals at Girls' State can be adequately pictured from Ruth's "almost every girl up there gained five to ten pounds" and their excellence applies to the entire experience. Her summation declares, "It was a fantastic eight days which I shall never forget."

BRUCE

Bruce Massee was one of 850 boys participating in Boys' State last summer. They called the State Fair Grounds "home" from June 17 to June 26. Bruce describes his accommodations as "a barn," which was fortunately placed out of the ordinary by countless hours of fun and education. The boys awoke to, "How would you like your eggs this morning?", which was meant as a morale builder as the eggs were the same every morning anyway. Bruce ran for Lieutenant Governor on the Whig party ticket and placed third in the Boys' State mile run, part of a track meet. He held the office of Acting City Clerk and was a member of the Port Board of Commissioners. As a citizen of the city of Sloat in Long County, Bruce's slogan was

"We can gloat,
We can gloat;
We are from the city of Sloat."

These proud and smiling Monarch girls and Pat Devereaux escort Queen Pat to first place in the Junior Division in the Mother Goose Parade

Responding to the music George Thompson exhibits excellent control and facility.

Modern dance students perform the Kettle Step for the World Dance Festival. The proceeds went to the American Red Cross.

Checking his skills to know music before beginning to record

Batman assists in the Wonder Boy in demonstrating proper skating technique to junior and senior girls

Dave Miller shows a fierce face as he lunges for the ball in the Senior-Faculty Basketball Game.

LONGGEARS

Before the game Bob Sanjaval tastefully attired in a shower cap, practices with fellow seniors

Senior Mike Bohrer tries to hang on to both the ball and the donkey in the Senior-Junior Donkey Basketball Game. He appears to be calling for some kind of help.

VALEDICTORIAN

Ruth Logsdon

Ruth is the only member of the class of '66 with straight A's. She is a life member of C.S.F., a California State Scholarship semi-finalist, and the Bank of America Liberal Arts trophy winner. Attending San Diego State College or Cal-Western to acquire a teaching credential are future plans. Following graduation, Ruth hopes to teach high school English in different parts of the world.

SALUTATORIAN

Laura Subber

Holding second place, Laura is a life member of C.S.F., the Bank of America certificate winner in English, and a California State Scholarship semi-finalist. To prepare for a career in the United States Foreign Service, possibly as an interpreter, she plans to earn at least her Bachelor of Arts degree at Raymond College or the University of California at San Diego.

THREE EARN HIGHEST SENIOR HONORS

NATIONAL MERIT FINALIST

John Ferguson

Monte Vista's only 1966 National Merit finalist is also third in class standings. John is a C.S.F. life member, a California State Scholarship semi-finalist, and the Math-Science Bank of America trophy winner. He will take advantage of facilities at San Diego State College and plans to pursue post-graduate work there. Following completion of his studies, John will devote himself to a career in science.

The entire cast gathers around a grotesque, fallen Bill (Dave Brown) with various degrees of surprise. Tom (Thure Stell) keeps a lookout for an ambulance as Mr. McCloud (Dick Reiter) and Stage Manager Jim Keen bend over the body. Kavaleksy (Don Esterer) comments on the catastrophe and Mr. McClurg (Mike McMeekin) comforts his wife Ruth (Logsdon).

A POWERFUL PRODUCTION

Dr. Caldwell (Bill McClurg) expresses his regrets for his shocking refusal to come to the hospital to treat Bill. He had been tired and wanted to finish his lunch and listen to the World Series.

Under Mr. Peace's direction, students were ready to work at rehearsals, which progressed smoothly with a maximum of laughter.

"How're ya feelin' Sush?" Mr. Peace a la Dr. Caldwell demonstrates the correct father lunge.

A horrified cast gathers around the body of Bill Dave Brown who has just plunged to his death.

Prompter Loretta Jones, Student Director Laura Subter, and Stage Manager Jim Keen regard proceedings from the sidelines.

Bob Sandoval and Larry Le Blanc intend to give Don Lederer a lesson in swearing.

Larry Le Blanc as Mr. Wright uses sarcasm to tear apart Mr. Crowe's "I'm sorry."

SENIORS

Couples quietly enjoy themselves at the Prom in the Banquet Room of the Hilton Inn

Following dinner at the Catamaran, seniors boarded the Bahia Belle for an hour's cruise. One Monarch insisted on taking pictures on the top deck.

Following hours of swimming, running, and wrestling at the picnic, some seniors sang and chatted around the fire. Others continued swimming, running, and wrestling....

At the breakfast, Alice Oberlies mentions the senior parking lot. Donna Storton seems to have eaten quite a few pancakes.

ON THE GO

At the banquet, Ron Bayless and Sande Miller are named the Most Likely to Succeed. Mr. Ferguson, the yearbook advisor, announced the senior standouts.

Christian Fullet and Bob Hendrikson smile contentedly after a pancake breakfast at the Village Inn Pancake House.

Baccalaureate was held in the beautiful San Diego Methodist Church in Mission Valley.

With serious faces, Betty and Ron regard the attractive clothes in the foyer of the Hilton Inn.

ORGANIZATIONS

PROPOSALS PONDERED

Representatives from all four classes at Monte Vista opened the weekly meetings of the Student Council with a flag salute. Following an agenda, President Ron Bayless completed any old business before proceeding to the new. Secretary Betty Breece kept track of the proceedings in her minutes.

The most important undertaking this year was the completion of evaluation forms. Monte Vista applied for accreditation and the Student Council was asked to help. Representatives answered questions covering each school-sponsored activity, and home-school relationships. Committees were formed to cover each section separately. Guided by Mr. Gray, they condensed the many evaluation sheets to one, representing the combined views of the Student Council.

In addition to approving club constitutions and ordering Student Council keys, the group began the castle-in-the-courtyard project this year. Committees were also set up to investigate school dances, the litter problem, and methods to increase good citizenship.

Ron Bayless casually conducts one of the well-attended morning meetings of Student Council, which were punctuated with lively discussions. Individual questions were answered and proposals and club constitutions were voted on.

Mike McMeeken, Joan Cresse, Pat Devereaux, Betty Breece and Curtis Johnson gather jovially except for Curtis; around a table. They are members of the Student Court, formed for students with various complaints.

A S.S.B. Vice President Ron Bayless kept the meetings efficient, calm and friendly. In the foreground, Betty Breece rapidly takes notes. Her well-organized minutes served as a measure of progress.

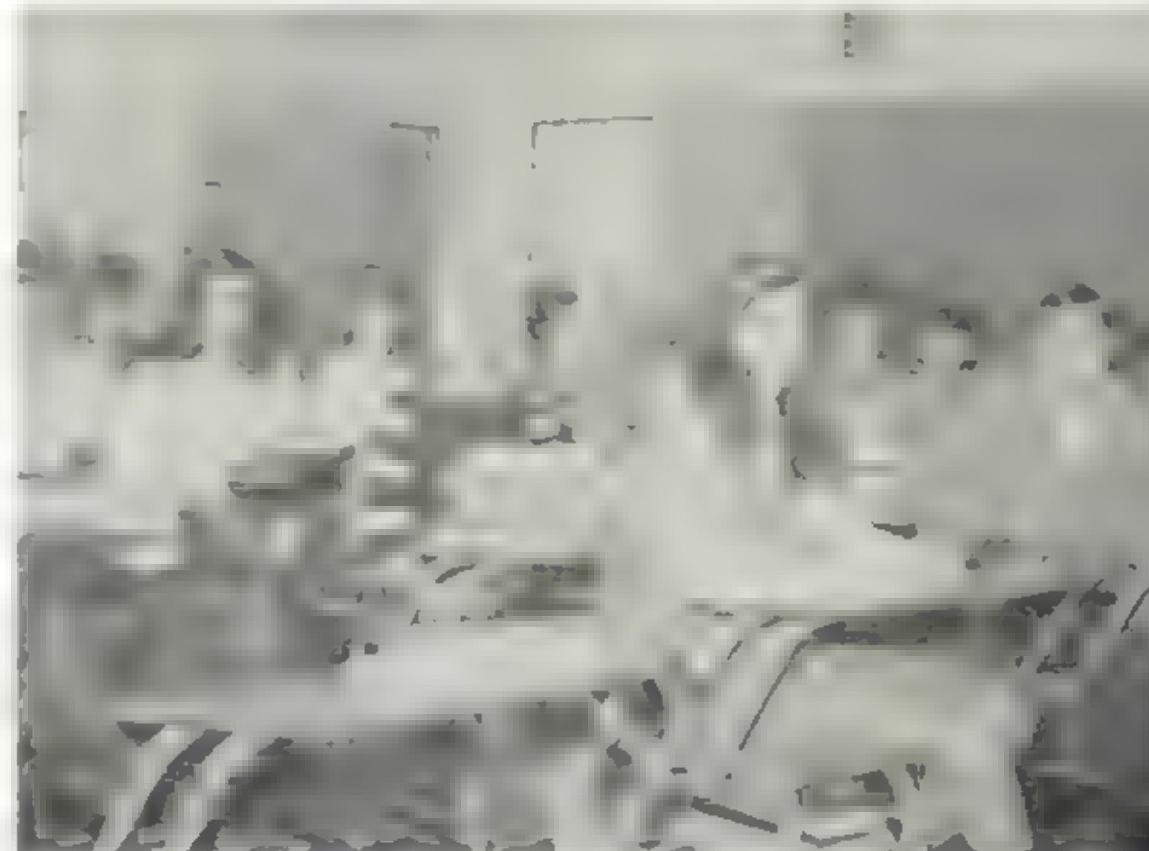

The seniors were the most numerically represented class at the meetings this year which had something less than overwhelming attendance records. Shown here looking studious as befits intelligent Seniors are Bruce Masse, Lois Williams, Curtis Johnson, President Steve Tingle, Vice President Laura Subber, Bob Hendrickson, Mike Boas, Ruth Logsdon, Patty Doran, and Donna Copeland.

STUDIES SIMPLE FOR SCHOLARS

Sponsored by Mrs. Farrar, Monte Vista's mighty mental magnates in the California Scholarship Federation worked on projects and considered new activities. Debated this year were a free day each quarter, meetings during the school day, and the Scholastic Olympics. A free day would allow C.S.F. members to attend various classes other than those on their regular schedule or take a field trip. Meetings during the school day would be on the free day or planned for a different period each session. The Scholastic Olympics, on the order of the College Bowl, was a subject discussed by the other schools in the district as well. Teams from the four classes would compete. A suggested name for the event is "Battle of the Brains."

In the final stages is an honor role to be posted in the glass showcase. The top twenty-five students in each class are to be shown.

Already effective is the privilege enjoyed by C.S.F. members with study hall to go directly to the library without the necessity of a pass.

The underclassmen worked with the Seniors on old and new projects this far. Shown are Cheryl Manchus, Sandy Rowin, Joan Cresson, Ann Hogan, Julie Vandehey, Randy Whitlock, Sue Wing, Barbara Smith, Debbie Newak, Barb Paine, Candy Cutler, Bob Godley, and Lani Minella.

President of Girls' League Tauri Inness-Brown had the responsibility of supervising committees for the newspaper, girl-of-the-month, and events such as fashion shows.

At the fashion show held for all Monarch girls in the gym, Tauri was announced as girl-of-the-month. Gail Ferguson, a member of the girl-of-the-month committee, presented her with a corsage.

GIRLS REALLY GO - A SHY LEAGUE LIFTS ITS HEAD

Tauri seems to flash a shocked glance at Vice-President Ruth Logsdon. How'd you get by the censors, Ruth? The other, calmer girls attending vote on five candidates for girl-of-the-month and approve or disapprove plans for projects.

Following her memorable election, Commissioner of Girls' Activities Tauri Inness-Brown began plans for this year's Girls' League immediately. She interviewed her officers and made an outline of the entire year's proposed events.

In the summer of 1965, a few weeks before school began, a meeting was held at Pat Sadrler's house, where Tauri's schedule was discussed, tissue roses made, and the duties of each officer explained.

The year began with welcoming the freshmen girls before school started. The activities available to them were outlined, school rules were explained, and various Girls' League officers gave summaries of the purposes of their positions. To entertain the somewhat jittery girls, a fashion show was given.

During the year, the Girls' League held Tuesday meetings during both lunches. These sessions decided the girl-of-the-month, planned activities for all Monarch girls, and created a Girls' League newspaper, called "Castle Chatter." One activity, held in the fall, was a fashion show. The event was widely publicized and very well attended.

GROUP GETS GOING

The Boys' Federation sponsors the annual Ugly Man's contest and dance, which is held in the spring. Also sponsored by this organization is the Senior-Faculty Basketball Game - usually a hilarious exhibition of uncoordination and futile flings at the nearest basket. Meetings were conducted by Dave Brown. Other officers were Chuck Downing, Vice-President, and Alex Fousek, Secretary-Treasurer. Meetings were held during both lunches whenever anything came up to be discussed. All boys in the school were welcome to attend.

A service project this year was to take donations for the blind. Members stationed themselves in front of many stores in the San Diego area and distributed little white canes for each donation.

As Commissioner of Boys' Activities, Dave Brown is the President of Boys' Federation. Here he poses full of authority on one of the many rocks at the front of Monte Vista.

Members of a comparatively calm Boys' Federation are Larry Papike, Dave Brown, Ron Bayless, a be-spectacled Warren Takahashi, Alan Brodwolf, Bill Guiette, Rick Hanna, Greg Tresser, Bob Friend, Tom Wilson, a cool and contented Bob Sandoval, Allen Phillips, Jeff Yaddow, Steve Tingle (who likes to make himself difficult to identify), and Steve Womack.

PAT PROMOTES PEPPY PEOPLE

The Pep Club boasts one of the largest memberships in the school. Students enjoy planning events allowing them to both support the school and release tensions which might be alleviated on little brother, little sister, or the unsuspecting dog. The success of these events may be attributed to the lung power available and the spirit with which it was released.

During the year, Pat Calahan conducted many pep assemblies supporting all the teams. At each of these, Monarchs have roared until the gym vibrated.

Also successful were pep rallies held at the location of the game for about fifteen minutes before the contest began. Students arrived with a snarling Irving, noisemakers (including band members), and throats primed for cheering.

Commissioner of Pep Pat Calahan conducts one of the many enthusiasm-charged meetings on Friday morning. Plans for pep rallies at the games and other such spirited surprises were formulated.

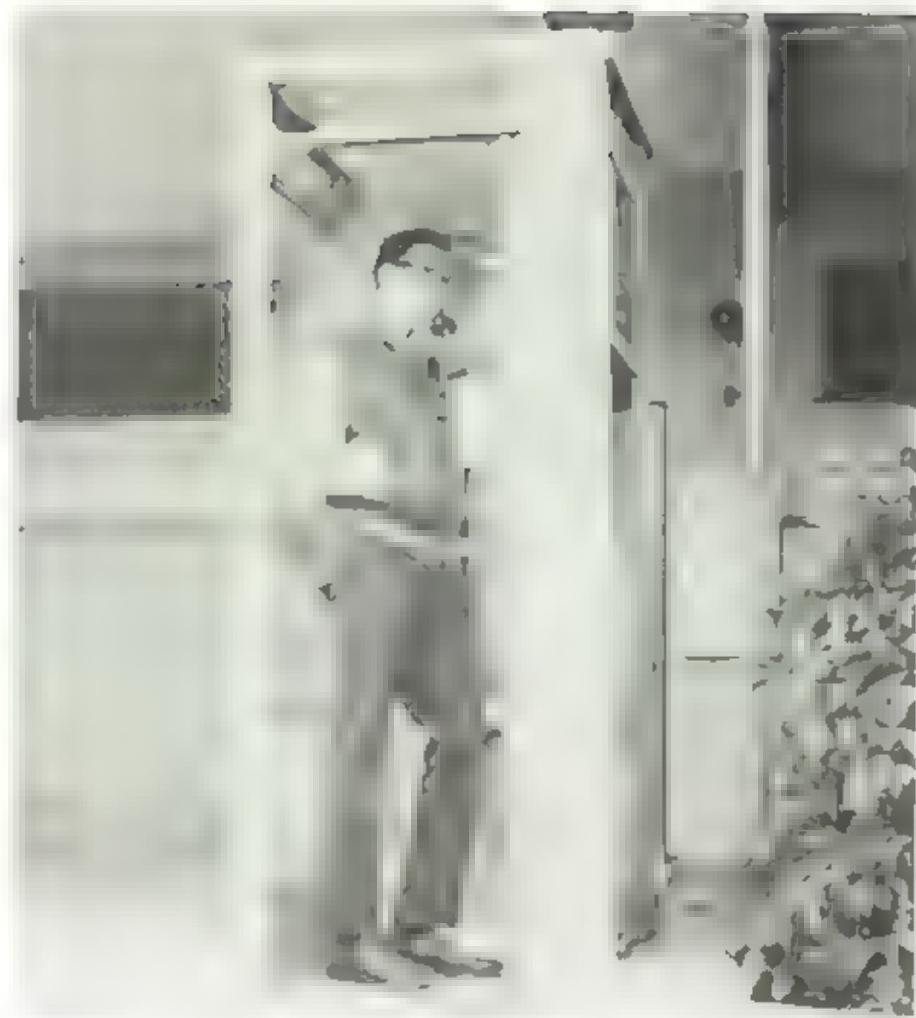

The large assembly of members does not represent the total Pep Club. In front of this motley crew, the active Senior Benchwarmers present a colorful display. Off to the right, sturdy shod varsity cheerleaders suggest violent action toward the Footshakers. Junior Varsity cheerleaders support a benevolent kinship of Irving de Leonardo. The crafty grin however, hides a ruthlessness attitude toward the hillbilly opponents.

ATHLETIC ACHIEVERS ASSEMBLE

Headed by President Allen Phillips, the Lettermen's Club met both lunches to discuss projects or just to grumble or boast "to the gang." Other officers in this sports-minded organization were Vice-President Bob Shook and Secretary-Treasurer Dave Brown. Members presented a fine group in their colorful jackets.

This year, as both a service to themselves and the school, the Lettermen's Club sponsored the football films on Friday mornings in room 605. The show cost each Monarch one reasonable nickel and presented the royal team in action during many games. The proceeds of this well-attended event went into the club treasury.

President Al Phillips tries to make a vital phone call from the booth in the courtyard. Something wrong? Could be that you left the dime in your pocket, Al. The level-headed Monarch will soon solve the problem.

STUDENTS SERVE SCHOOL

Girls interested in helping school activities run smoothly gather amidst milk cartons, hamburgers, and potato chips. Mary Lou Jones and a fellow member seem to have a couple good brainstorms.

Rina Vander Wielen, the Commissioner of Sales, made the newly formed Eciver Club into a helpful and busy body of interested students. Originally the Frosh-Soph Service Committee, the club was opened to all this year. The members sold concessions to all sports fans and dancegoers at games and hunger-producing dances. The Ecivers also had charge of pep ribbons, which were livelier and more colorful than ever before.

Rina Vander Wielen, whose enthusiasm and willingness to work were transferred to the members of the club, speaks at a meeting. She holds one of the many pep ribbons which Ecivers sold at lunch.

The Senior Benchwarmers distinguished themselves at football games with their vivid maroon costumes. They proudly warmed the team's benches during the half-time respite.

The happy Sen or Benchwarmers showed their spirit and support of the team by wearing their modish outfits on the Friday of the game. These willing girls with the warm-blooded dash are Linda Holder, Mornie Toy, Debbie Thatcher, Pat Sudder, Betti Breeze, Kitti Walzen, Lynette Grelson, Cindy Cady, Loretta Jones, Jo Ann Schlichte, Jeanette Stock, Susan Sessions, and Wanda Edelen.

PAPER PRODUCED

News Editor Gail Ferguson and Feature Editor Peggy Gramoy smile in the Royal Page office. Both editors assign stories, lay out pages assigned to them, type the stories, and write a few themselves.

The Royal Page was published every two weeks. The work put in to keep this schedule is little known to the majority of the Monarchy. The Journalism I class is the backbone of the paper. They bring in stories assigned to them by the editors in Journalism II. The page heads laid out the entire paper. They were Bob Sandoval, Gail Ferguson, and Peggy Gramoy, and they had a certain number of pages assigned to them.

The paper is financed by the A. S. B. and by advertising. $30 an issue is allotted to the Royal Page by the A. S. B. Anna Locke brought in between $30 and $40 in ads for each issue. Each page cost $10 to publish. Six pages only were published for most of the year to conserve funds for the Senior Edition.

Mr. Shepherd initiated several changes this year. Among them were the page heads and a proof-reading committee. These four students from Journalism I - Mark Lothian, Bob Waselewski, Bayda Shelton, and Cheryl Munchus - proof-read in addition to writing stories.

Wes Walen is the Managing Editor in charge of production. He is responsible for page heads. Donna Copeland is the Editor-in-Chief. She oversees all areas of work and spends many hours after school to ready an issue for the printer. Pat Baecht is the Managing Editor in charge of business. She takes care of all financial problems.

Rene' Trottier, school. Rene' and also draws Reggie. of events in other

Bob Wagaowski is the staff photographer. He also writes stories and invents captions. Mr. Shepherd is the Royal Page Advisor. He supervises the progress of the entire staff and makes decisions for the improvement of the paper. Anna Locke is the Advertising Manager. She gets all the ads necessary to finance the paper.

STAFF STUDIES' SHEETS

Susan Borrell, and Brenda Martin examine a paper from another. Brenda are the staff artists and draw ad illustrations. Brenda Susan is the Exchange Editor. She writes "From Afar" telling schools.

Lynette Grellson and Loretta Jones discuss the paper. Lynette is the Press Bureau and writes press releases to be sent to the local news papers. Loretta the Goss p Editor writes the Lions File. She also writes stories.

KID CALLS COMPANIONS "CUTE"

The September 10 arrival of Geneviève Didier "Smith" was anxiously awaited by the Monarchy. Her welcome to the States became complete as painted signs and shouts of "Bonjour" greeted her in the royal Monarch fashion. For the first few days of school Geva (as she came to be known by grateful Monarchs who wrenched their tongues on Geneviève) was lost in a wilderness of smiling faces and strange surroundings. But she rapidly recovered and her ever-ready giggle became her trademark. She invented the word "Logsy," obviously applied to an active senior, and received the nickname "Jeff" in return. She tried her hand at pool, poker, and acting, playing Miss Frank in the senior play. Everything that pleased her was promptly labeled "cute."

During the year Geva posed as a French cymbal player in the Marching Band and accompanied the Spanish Club to Rosarito Beach, where she exercised her not-so-limited español. Her overnight stay at Rosarito must have exhausted her, for slamming doors, screaming children, and accidental kicks in the side failed to rouse her the following morning.

Geva was a rather unique exchange student, being herself an American citizen. She was born in Detroit and lived in the U.S. for five years. Now for the second time in her life she has returned to France, but this time with many cute, lasting friendships. With her return the memory of warm Americans, so well represented by the Smiths, and a new love of wrestling. In her own words, Geva's reaction to the 'lutte' is "WOW!"

Listening intently to a quiet tune played by three girls and sung by the entire group, Geva is seated between the expressive arm of "Logsy" and the head of independent hair belonging to "Laurrra."

Thinking everyone had forgotten her birthday, how could she!, Geva was radiant when a group of mischievous girls screamed "Happy Birthday" as she entered the house. Her sister Cheryl gingerly experiments with one of the three guitars.

On December 7 a surprise birthday party was held for a bewilpered Geva who was taken to Donna Storto's house to clear the guests arrival and then was spirited back.

Part of the 40-odd members of an up-and-coming student A. F. S. pause to smile in the midst of plans for money-raising activities. In the middle row, Glen Pham from South Viet Nam gazes solemnly at the camera.

President Christian Fallet bears the trials and tribulations of conducting Yankee meetings with a big smile and calm manner. Behind him is one of the several colorfully decorated bulletin boards in room 407.

LOOKING OFF INTO THE HORIZON

Seated behind her proud French flag is Mrs. Ermenkov, International Club sponsor. Gathered behind her are the cheerful officers. They are Mary England, Laura Subber, Christian Fallet, Ralph Traber, Laura Albertson, and Mila Bulat.

International Club was more organized and active this year than ever before. At the beginning of the year, members and sponsors of other schools in the county were invited to the first inter-school meeting. Ideas for events were proposed, including an International Day and letters summarizing the school year to former exchange students. Later in the fall Ralph Traber showed slides of his summer as an A. F. S. exchange student in Germany and Mimi Auger showed hers of France, which she visited with her mother and a group of other Californians.

Many district schools participated in a World Dance Festival held in the Monarch gym on January 22. The proceeds will provide part of the $700 needed to bring another exchange student to the Monarchy. Soon after, the officers and other members expended considerable time and effort for an International assembly during the week of bond sales and a dance to follow the Donkey Basketball game. President Christian Fallet, Vice-President Mary England, Secretary Laura Subber, Treasurer Mila Bulat, and Student Council and Adult Chapter representatives Laura Albertson and Ralph Traber worked with committees to raise the remainder of the $700.

SWINGERS HELP COMMUNITY

The Senior Y-Teens have been quietly busy this year. Under the able leadership of Jo Ann Schlichte, they have served the community and enjoyed themselves at the same time.

In the fall they participated in the UNICEF and Leukemia Drives by ringing doorbells and utilizing available foot power. To supplement their treasury as well as to donate to worthy causes, the Senior Y-Teens held swap meets, bake sales, bottle collections, and canned food drives. Keeping profits high, the girls supply the merchandise. Much of the proceeds go toward the Nancy Nave Nursing Scholarship.

For pleasure, joints with Key Clubs of other schools are organized, looked forward to eagerly, and participated in enthusiastically. The biggest event of the year is the Carou-sel, a semi-formal dance held in spring for all Y-Teens. The Seniors helped decorate the hall.

Relaxing after another busy session are Secretary-Treasurer Alyce Whittington, Inter-Club Council Representative Betty Breece President Jo Ann Schlichte, and Vice-President Sande Miller. It seems Sande can think better without shoes.

Girls, most of whom seem to be taking pride on the furniture to form a compact group making plans for fund raising activities and projects benefitting the community. In on the creative thinking are Sue Helm, Sande Miller, Betty Breece, Linda Hitch, Peggy Gramov, Diane Bussing, Margie Kukas, Alyce Whittington, Jeannette Stock, Nancy Hotis, Diane Wilkinson, Mimi Auger, Charlotte Clark and Jo Ann Schlichte. All are smiling, oblivious of any tests the following day.

Members register mixed expressions at one of their regular Wednesday night meetings. They are Frankie Appleby, Sandy Stoddard, Ammy Frauscht, Sally Campbell, and Mary Fegan.

President Pat Bush relates information to the girls as Secretary Judy Potter and Sergeant at Arms Linda Rappold listen. The Treasurer was Pat Melton and the Vice-President was Jan McGuffin.

STUDENTS SUCCOR, SERVE, AND SWING

Mrs. Chapman, the sponsor, glances at a despondent-looking Donna Wilson. Appearing considerably more cheerful are Joan Cresse, Elona Simmons, and Linda Rappold. The head of black hair belongs to Debbie Chapman.

A bake sale began the school year for the Junior Y-Teens. The event was held at Unimart and added funds to their treasury. Another similar sale was held later in the year. Car washes were also a means of raising money. One was planned as a joint with the El Cajon Key Club.

The junior girls marched for Leukemia. They had a canned food drive on Thanksgiving to give needy families a pleasant holiday and collected fruit for the inmates of Spring Valley Sanitarium. Rummage sales also increased available funds.

A project looked forward to by the group was helping with the construction of Angeles Unaware in El Cajon, for the mentally retarded. The girls helped with the mentally retarded at Monte Vista.

Joints were held with neighboring Key Clubs. The highlight of the year was Carousel, a semi-formal dance for all Y-Teens.

TEENS THINK YOUNG AND HELPFUL

The year began with a car wash at Mayfair Market. The Frosh-Soph Y-Teens earned over $100. Service projects which followed included collecting soap for South Viet Nam, called SOS, a scavenger hunt to gather clothing and other necessities for an orphanage in Tijuana, and collecting money for UNICEF. The latter effort for the community brought in about $35.

For pleasure, joints were held with other Key Clubs. The Frosh-Soph Y-Teens looked forward to Carousel, the semi-formal dance held on March 24. Another social event was a breakfast at the House of Pancakes.

About forty girls belonged to the Frosh-Soph Y-Teens this year. Officers were President Judy Bibee, Vice-President Mary Burak, Secretary Debbie Whittleton, and Treasurer Barbie Armstrong. Meetings were held every other Monday night.

Mulling over the words of President Judy Bibee are Debbie Whittleton, Barbie Armstrong, and Lani Fry. The legs of another unidentified member are pointed in the right direction for paying attention also

In various stages of dressiness brought on by possibly studying too much or too rapidly in order to go to the meeting are part of the Y-Teens membership. These conscientious girls are Vick Gramo, Coleen Conaway, Chris Orsen, Kristie Neperos, Melody Kraus, Barbie Smith, and Gwen Parent. The girls met regularly in room 605 to plan a variety of activities.

MONARCH MALES MINGLE

The Key Club actively made the scene in the social whirl under the leadership of President Bob Forester, Vice-President Clayton Maki, and Secretary-Treasurer Doug Parent.

A prospective member must be nominated by someone already in the club. He is then voted on. Once accepted in the club, the new participant must attend a minimum of three meetings and must pay dues of $2.50 a year.

Successfully passing this rather selective recruiting for new members entitles the boy to participate in the many activities. Money-raising events include car washes, and canned food drives. This year the Key Club sold tickets to the pancake breakfast held at Mt. Miguel by the Kiwanis Club.

During their weekly Tuesday night meetings, the boys planned social events as well. Joints are held often with the Y-Teens of various schools in the county and city.

Bob Forester, the smiling president of a happy go lucky Key Club, poses casually at a meeting. He kept the group of potentially explosive boys in line during the numerous night meetings.

Sown in various intelligent poses are Mike Farrell, Jeff Yarrow, Bob Forester, Chuck Archer, Alan Brodwell, Mike Depvik, Vic Morris, Dave Brown, Larry Papike, Doug Parent, Ted Dedrick, Jim Donovan, Warren Takahashi, Dave Miner, Bob Sandoval, Cliff Sapienza, Greg Tresser, and Clayton Maki. This lively group planned many good times for themselves this year.

Work progresses despite the inevitable clowning when boys and hoses are mixed on a warm day. Ted Dedrick dampens a sponge, John Mustol's shoes, and a considerable amount of ground under the erratic aim of John. Other energetic club members exercise biceps and knee joints on the many cars left to be polished and hopefully returned in the same general condition, outside of cleanliness, as when the owners brought them in.

KEY CLUB CLEANS CARS

Skip Todd and John Mustol tackle another dirty car with hose and sponge. Skip seems to enjoy cold and soapy water on bare feet. John bravely washes in spite of a troublesome knee.

With feet firmly planted on the soggy ground, Ted Dedrick indicates another customer or maybe an attractive pedestrian to a smiling Skip Todd. The boys appear to have their hands full of business at the moment.

SANGUINE SEGOVIAS SHOW STRINGS

Organized last year by those interested in learning possibly to imitate the Beatles, Guitar Club has flourished. New faces constantly appeared as the club attendance soared with each meeting. Hard work and diligent practice began to show as the sounds emerging from room 406 became more and more pleasing to the ear.

Sponsored by Mr. Scherf, who occasionally hypnotized members with a fast Flamenco or a sad Mexican lament, the club met every other week to work on song sheets mimeographed and chorded by "el señor." Pieces ranging from "Malaguena" and "Greensleeves" to "House of the Rising Sun" and "Just a Little" were enjoyed to the fullest extent by members who intently concentrated on the radio or a record to figure out the chords and bring the results to be scrutinized, corrected if necessary, and typed up for the benefit of the rest of the club. A few members even came up with original compositions which were highly praised by admiring listeners.

Most of the budding guitarists played a Western instrument, but a smattering of Mexican and air-shattering electric guitars was found throughout the year. A mixing of these types resulted in "Louie Louie" with a "Hush-a-Bye" "Bachground." Though cacophony was sometimes the outcome, the music aficionados derived much pleasure from their own talents. The most faithful attenders were identified by the calloused finger tips on the left hand, and the carefully nourished fingernails on the right hand to allow for clearer playing. The latter virtue is difficult to attain, and necessitates either the patience of Job or an almost fanatic zeal for guitar music. Yeah, yeah, yeah!

These three members are capable of producing more sound than the entire club put together with their electric heart-throbs. These dangerous individuals are Alan Peterson, Mr. Scherf, and Scott Oakes.

Gathered on the lawn before commencing their afternoon concerts are the members of the club. The membership was in a state of flux—many leaving, many drawn to the club. For the benefit of guitar unoriented Monarchs, members are striking an A chord. Different methods of accomplishing this are shown above by the "expert" guitarists.

FUN FANS FOMENT FROLICS

Spanish Club meetings began with a big bang this year when a colorful burro was brutally beaten to provide triumphant participants with candy to crunch in class during the day. One Saturday soon afterwards, club members gathered to take part in a treasure hunt for no less than a box of chocolate-covered cherries. President Ruth Logsdon and Vice-President Laura Subber composed the clues and planted them in obscure places about campus after Mr. Conger had translated them into Spanish. Refreshments were enjoyed by the foot-weary hunters following the triumph of Treasurer Alan Puterson and Dan Brown.

In January about a dozen members piled into cars and repeated the journey to Rosarito Beach made last summer as a non-school sponsored activity. The experienced "Gringos" promptly renewed the friendships established last time with a fourteen member family of "Mexicanos" and first-time visitors were effectively introduced to the l-o-o-ng staircase, frigid water, and the rocky stretches of beach to be avoided by those brave enough to surf. Hardy footballers battled evening fog and darkness as the team headed by Eddie Silva defeated that of club secretary Skip Todd in a well-fought fight for the championship. The seven adventurers who stayed overnight found the morning fog to be an impediment to the matutinal wrestling match, but spirits remained undampened as enormous appetites were curbed by a substantial breakfast. After a slight delay in Tijuana the group staggered back into the U.S. completely exhausted and considerably the worse for wear.

With the supervision of Mr. Conger the club continued to prosper as programs planned and presented by various guest speakers served to improve both the members' Spanish and knowledge of Latin American customs and lives. A second treasure hunt and a third visit to Rosarito were also part of the club's agenda for the rest of the year.

Mr. Conger grins at club members as he raises the piñata. Chris Barr, Dan Brown, and Ruth Logsdon inspect the proceedings at close range. Other members sit at the sidelines to watch the fun.

Ritzily dressed members embark for Rosarito with warm clothes and a lot of food. Though Eddie Silva seems to be concentrating on the ground it is more likely that he is planning methods to harass his fellow adventurers.

Imelda Ramirez takes a swing at the piñata which by this time has literally lost its head. President Ruth Logsdon stands ready to help if Imelda wanders too far away.

GRACEFUL GIRLS GATHER

Annette Lux, Bea Gai Herrick, and Alice Kienzle utilize limber thigh muscles and exhibit flowing tresses as they strike a delicate pose. The girls' trim forms are aided by conscientious practicing.

The Honors in Dance group was organized to allow interested students to continue dancing outside of class. Tryouts are held each spring to yield a small and select group of quick to learn and talented girls. This method for choosing the girls was employed by Mrs. Finney, the sponsor, specifically for that purpose and has worked very well.

The girls meet weekly to work on routines in various types of dance. They present a few of the best in the occasional programs during the year in which modern dance appears.

They did a number in the Christmas program before parents and students. They performed in the Kerry Reel for the World Dance Festival. The girls were also granted time in the spring modern dance program.

A startling array of precisely balanced arms and legs belong to Michelle Meckel, Elena Simmons, Reginia Bryan, Debbie Chapman, and Robin Lee. To remain in this pose for any length of time requires insensitive or well-padded knees.

A mysterious sit like sitting is achieved by immobile Pat Callahan, Denise Vos, Kay Bennington, Mary Lou Jones, Pat Baecht, Pat Bush, and Ammy Trauscht. The expressionless faces, white hands against black leotards and the crouched posture of every other girl contribute to this startling effect. The modern dance group enjoyed still effects as well as active dancing.

WINTER'S ROCK THE MURKIN

This vertical collage is a dense assembly of screenshots and cutscenes from the video game Final Fantasy VII Remake. It features a variety of scenes: Aerith Gainsborough in her signature green dress; the sprawling industrial city of Midgar with its iconic skyscrapers; the interior of the Shinra HQ; and the climactic confrontation with the final boss, Sephiroth. The images are layered and overlap, creating a complex and visually rich composition.

The usual scene after a parade is a mob milling around Mr. Snyder to hear the results on the score sheets. Points are based on appearance marching, and music. The marching Monarchs scored at least 86 out of 100 points at every parade.

The orderly confusion before the parade is familiar to each marching Monarch. Instruments are unloaded from the truck and loudly claimed. Straps are adjusted, part of the ample supply of lung power warms the instruments, and cases are re-loaded.

MARCHERS MADLY MUSTER MEMBERS

Thirty-eight freshmen, sixteen sophomores, thirteen juniors and six seniors joined together to assemble the most consistant and high scoring band in Monarch history. Despite the youth and inexperience of this year's band, they continued to win honors and gain acclaim throughout the Southland. First place in class "A" at the San Bernadino Parade of Music and second place in class "C" at the Long Beach All-Western Band Review highlight this awarding year. The success of this year's band cannot be attributed to any one person or any one thing. The tremendous enthusiasm and hard work of all its members, the fine organization of the marching band council, and the help and support of the band parents are but a few of the factors that played such a large part in the success of the Championship Monarch Red and Gold Band.

In block formation, members are checked for specks of dirt on uniforms and instruments, sections are tuned, and grooming needs are attended to. Les Pearson has stray ends of hair snipped by Mr. Snyder.

The end results of the time, effort, and worry are an immaculate unit of precise movement and championship quality. Smiling as they march smartly down Ocean Blvd. in Long Beach, the Banderettes are followed by a lively twirler and a well-guided body of instrumentalists.

SPEAKERS' SHOW 'EM SOMETHING

Taking advantage of the class interruption, John Hnatek catches up on lost sleep. Other members of the class exhibit other interesting traits. Marsha Hooper keeps a wary eye on someone in the corner and Mary England smiles at the same.

Last summer, Mrs. Cremer called meetings at her lovely home for those interested in the speech team this year. She explained the areas of competition and gave the group the debate question to ponder. She also warned about the time to be spent poring over "Newsweek," "U. S. News and World Report," and "Time" each week, in addition to articles found elsewhere which might have a bearing on current issues and events. In spite of the dire word "work," Mrs. Cremer found herself with perhaps too many ambitious speech makers prepared to go into almost any field required of them.

The areas of extemporaneous, impromptu, original oratory, and oratorical interpretation always held a sufficient number of students' interest. Only debate made participants reluctant, possibly because of the difficult and not especially well-known or discussed topic concerning labor. The Monarchs always placed several students in at least semi-finals and the team won many trophies and certificates. Reginia Bryan contributed extensively to the trophy collection.

Gathered smiling and scowling around an alert Mrs. Cremer are Danny Jeffers, Alice Obernes, Andy Lovstead, Tom Viering, Bruce Masse, Larry Le Blane, Charlotte Clark, John Hnatek, Cathie Panter, Ron Hayress, Linda Nethling, Jim Cremer (no relation to his teacher), Mike McMeeken, Liz Scola, and Ron Vander Wielen. These students and several more participated in the numerous nerve-racking tournaments held during the year.

MULTI-MOODED MONARCHS MAKE MERRY

Karen "Sunnie" Erickson threatens Tauri Inness-Brown (an obvious villain) in a ladylike manner. Mrs. Cremer restrains a rather stunned Melody Kraus from drastic action. Wonder what Sunnie could be saying?

Monte Vista's drama group made a habit of having a good time while learning various techniques and becoming familiar with many plays and stories. Instructed by Mrs. Cremer, the students made ambitious strides this year and plunged into their work with obvious enthusiasm. In the fall, the class experimented with pantomime. Naturally gay, the participants nearly destroyed the mood of serious scenes until they were rehearsed several times. One-act plays were next on the agenda. They seemed to fascinate many of the students. A plan all were determined to realize was to present a series of one-act plays before an audience. Royalties and copyrights have presented a problem in the past. Performances for various community groups were given, such as church organizations and service clubs. Individuals as well as groups participated in this self-less activity.

Regardless of whether or not a certain play was to be used for public purposes, costumes were often hunted for and make-up pertinent to each part was applied. This eagerness and interest in drama was exhibited all year by the class, to the great delight of Mrs. Cremer.

Diana Hass winsomely blushes and turns to the side as Tauri Inness-Brown pleads with her. Lisa Toby in the dark suit completely approves Diana's actions as becoming to a young girl.

Melody Kraus has apparently broken loose from Mrs. Cremer. Here she vents her rage on a grinning and not particularly frightened Tauri Inness-Brown, and "his" attractive companion, Kathie Harper. Has Mr. Divine inspected that hemline?

MONTE VISTA'S

Under the able direction of Mr. Sagle, the choir received a superior rating at the El Monte Fox Music Festival in March, 1965, in which they compete again this year. The choir and glee partcipate in many other festivals in the Grossmont District, and San Diego and Los Angeles areas for which no ratings are given. In the Grossmont District, the choir sings as a whole in April and individually in May. The glee also performs separately and as a whole. All the singing groups' talents are presented to the Monarchs at the two Christmas assemblies and the Spring

SINGING CHAMPIONS

Concert The proceeds from the concert help finance the trips

At the Awards Banquet, awards for the outstanding freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior—the best accompanying, directing, and composing—are presented. The most accomplished senior boy and girl singers receive the Bel Canto Award.

Mr. Slagley directs his fifth period concert choir with expressive gestures. Slight movements of his hands regulate the volume and tempo.

MANY MAKE MUSIC

This year Monte Vista's choir and glee were well represented in many festivals and performances by the members of the Madrigals and the Chansonettes. The Chansonettes are a girls' ensemble composed of girls from both the choir and glee. The members of the Madrigals mixed ensemble are also chosen from the choir and glee. To qualify for membership these students must be able to blend their voices with others, and their attendance and responsibility must be good. Tryouts for the ensembles were held at the beginning of the year and final membership was decided by Mr. Slagley. Both groups sang for community as well as school functions.

Lynette Lubduska, Julie Marmon, Dee Saron, Linda Conlon, Gladys Uri, Susan Wing, Liz Whitaker, Laura Albertson, Carol Saner, Shirley Duncan, Ann Hogan, Jonnie Sutton, and Katie Kircher are the Chansonettes.

Choir officers are Mike Rhodes, Vice-President, Janet Plummer, Treasurer, Rick Geer, President, Jonnie Sutton, Historian, Linda Conlon, Librarian, Dee Saron, Secretary, and Karen Stone, Librarian.

IDEAS OF BUDDING PICASSOS MATERIALIZE

The busy and talented art classes are a little recognized part of Monarch society. During the fall, the students worked on portraits with Thure Stedt, a senior, posing. Later in the year, the advanced classes practiced drawing and working with paints. Excellent work is displayed in the art room. A bull done by Brenda Martin as part of a class assignment is alongside pictures by many other Monarchs, past and present.

This year, in addition to individual projects and regular class assignments, plans are being formulated for large murals to be placed around the school. One location under consideration is the outside of the gym.

Directing this ambitious operation is Mr. Gray, who teaches all the art classes and keeps the art supplies available for school publicity. An important annual responsibility is to approve candidates for the office of Commissioner of Publicity.

Two top Monarch artists concentrate on figure drawing. Brenda Martin smiles slightly as she sketches. The girl in the background was done by her. Donna Storto stares reflectively at the wall with pencil poised for action.

Advance art students busily organize plans for murals to be placed around the school. A bull like the striking one in the background was an assignment for the entire class. Dona Davis did the pensive girl on the back wall.

Gathered before the work of previous and current students are Tauni Inness Brown, Candy Turnham, Janice Ford, Bill Wolfe, Victoria Vandenburg, Carol Hunsberger, Colleen Hyatt, Donna Storto, Barbara Bluchan, and Brenda Martin.

The Granite Hill's defense line is completely shattered by the Monarch offense. Hugging the ball, Bob Forester (43) finds a big hole and takes help of fellow Monarchs. Chuck Downing (44), off to the rear, and Lee Townsend (73), right behind Bob, are in the clear and hustle to Bob. Schauss (84) forges ahead in the thick of the play to clear the path for a determined and speedy Forester.

Bob Forester (43) follows two other blockers, John Andrew Mustel (33) and quarterback Bob Shook (17) for good yardage against Henix. The pair cleared the way during the play for a good Monarch showing. This year Bob was the team's leading yard gainer with a total of 771 yards.

Defensive points are made here by Bob Shook (17) while two Juniors, John Daley (72) and Ross Dell (62) get in on the kill. The Monte Vista - El Cajon game was one of the best the Monarchs played with a tight 13 - 13 tie at the half.

Quarterback Bob Shook (17) is off and running. Bob could (84), Steve Burgessur (71), who is guarding Bob's way is closing in from the outside.

Speedy halfback Steve Womack (20) gets a handoff from quarterback Bob Shook (17). With 19 to his credit, Steve tied with Bob Forester for the most points during this season. Others involved in the play are Steve Burgess (71), Dave Verrin (61), who is preparing to clash with a determined opponent, Lee Townsley (73), and Wayne Blake (65), who is charging on ahead.

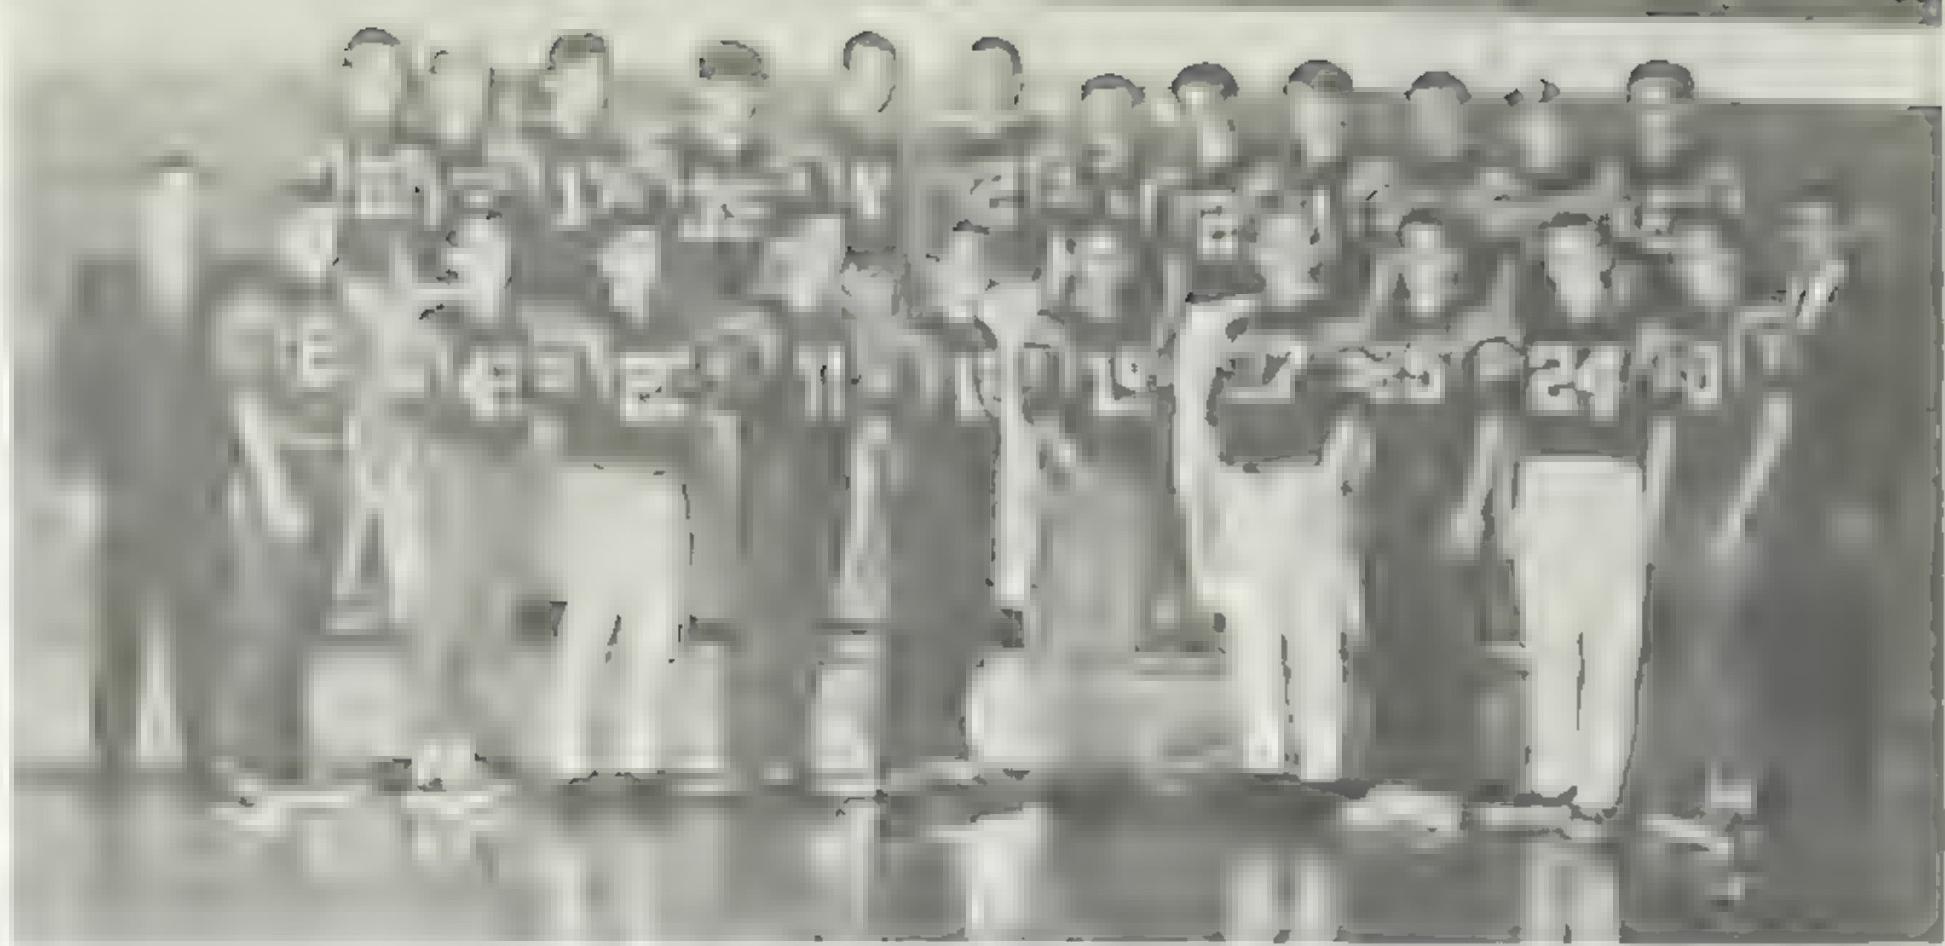

Sophomore Chuck Downing makes a fine tackle against Helix, while help is on the way from Joe Rayburn (85) and Mike Ferrell (83). Chuck was a key factor for Helix to play with 106 points.

Senior center Larry Papike (31) pushes away Highlander center while John Daley (72) tackles the Helix ball carrier with sophomore Joe Rayburn (85) running to his assistance.

Bob Shook (17) tackles an El Capitan Vaquero while being anchored by Larry Papike (31). Almost the entire squad was in on this play. Included in this shot are John Mustol (33), who is shoving another Vaquero out of the way, John Daley (72), Chuck Downing (44), Joe Rayburn (85), who is prepared to jump on the Vaquero with the ball, and Ken Baker (82) who is on the alert and right behind Joe.

Coach Norm Wooten gives instructions to heavyweight John Daley before Daley takes to the mat. During his career at Monte Vista, Coach Wooten has led his team to two C.I.F. Championships.

Ned Fousek is about to pin his rival in CIF competition. Ned received a second in League and was a CIF champion. He also received the Most Improved Wrestler Award.

Danny Kida gets ready to pin his opponent. Danny was third in the Grossmont Invitational. It was a CIF champion and on the All-League first team. Danny, only a freshman, collected the highest total of team points.

John Daley shows his power as he beats a HI. top Lancer. John took third place honors in the Grossmont Invitational, a second in the League, and a fourth in CIF competition. He also received the Monarch Pinning Award.

Glen Takahashi pins one of many adversaries. Undefeated, Glen was first in the Grossmont Invitational. He made All-League first team and was a CIF champion. He was also San Diego "Wrestler of the Year".

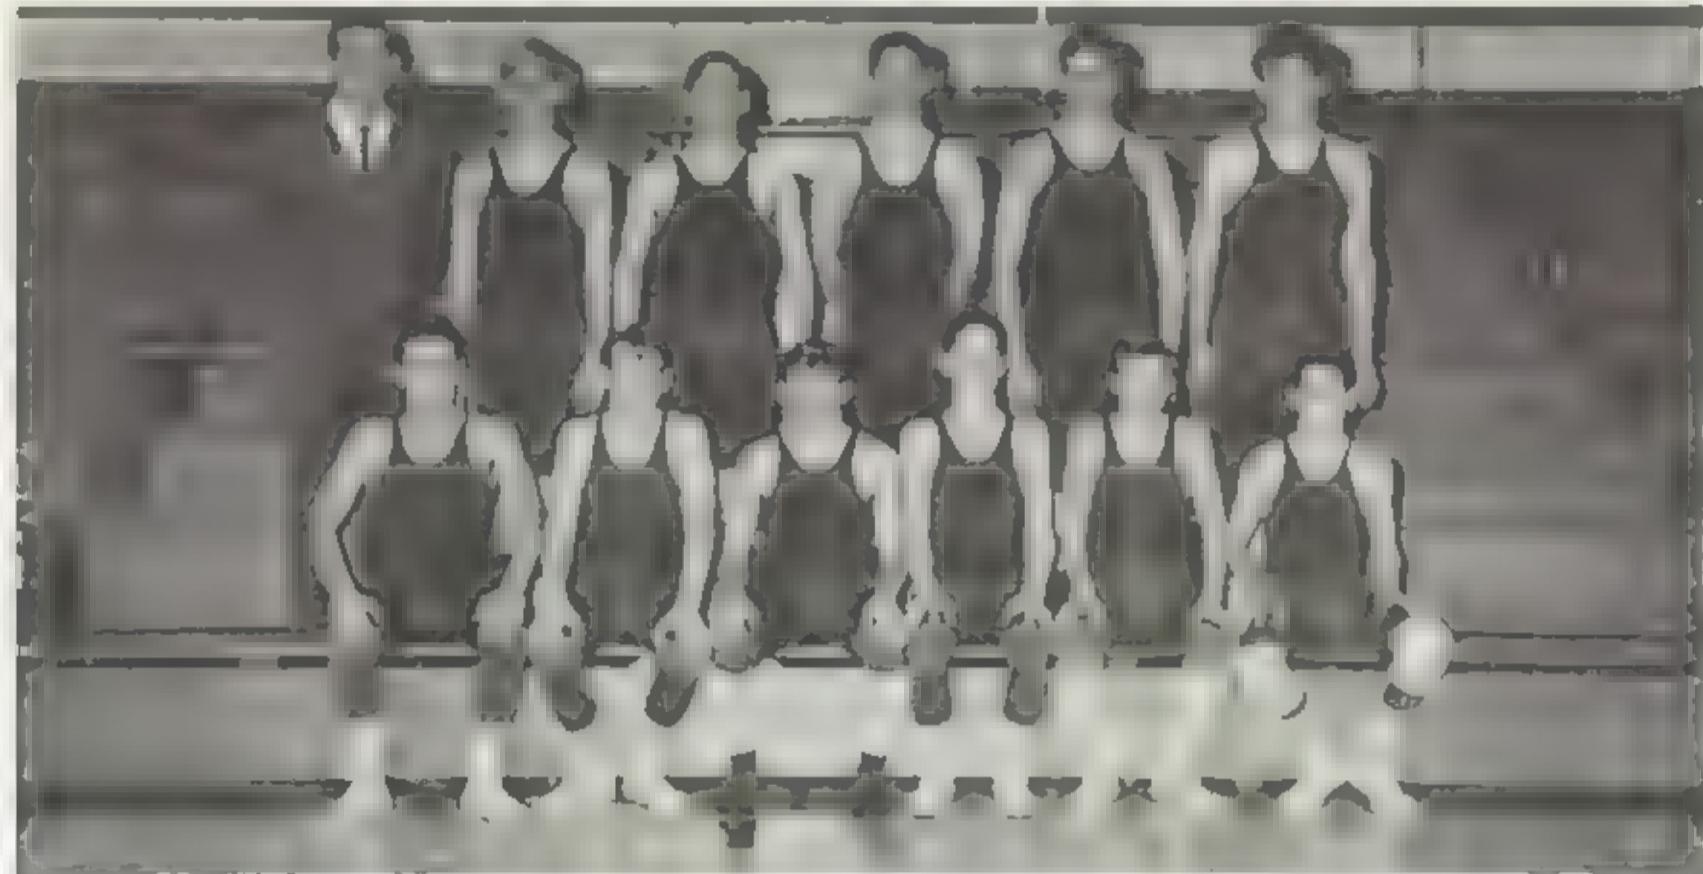

Dale Harberson forces his opponent to lie within, another victory for the Monarch Matmen. Dale was fourth in the Grossmont Invitational and was captain of the team.

Mike McCullough, a Junior, is about to pin a Mount Miguel Matador. Mike took a second in League and a second in CIF competition in the 182 pound division.

Ronney Stevens, Dave Mathen, and Don Olson are the team at mid-distance for the Monarchs. Through their efforts many points and much recognition have been earned for Monte Vista.

Speedy Phil Luque was not only a good low-hurdler but also a fast 100 yard dash man. His efforts below the Monarchs in the track test went on to gain a fine track record.

Rick Geer, with a good effort, hurls the discus at a meet with El Cerrito. Rick was Monte Vista's top man with the discus for two years. His record of 157' 10".

High hurdler Jerry Nierengarten holds a lead of mere inches over his opponent from El Cerrito School as he clears the last hurdle of the race. In all of the meets this year Jerry was Monte Vista's top high hurdler this year.

Tom Ugnat, a hard working junior, was the top 88 Jr. in for Monte Vista this year with a record time of 1:59.1. Here he wins over opponents from Grossmont High to set a new record.

44 yard man Chuck Camp gets a good start past an opponent from Grossmont High School in a regular meet. His start here was good enough to bring him one of his many victories this year.

Coach Mary Lacey is shown here concentrating on the game strategy before the Monarch horsehiders take the field. Mr. Lacey has been an outstanding coach for four years.

Monarch "Batman" Bob Forrester blasts a three-run home run. His bat .447 average was through the season and he had ten more victories.

Dave Miller, the senior outfielder, is shown diving to catch a fly ball. Dave was a major player in the Monarch's outfield. He also came through with timely hitting. In two years, he has maintained a 1.000 fielding average.

7 SENIORS PACE SQUAD

Monarch first baseman Gary Ward gets ready to put the tag on an opposing runner on the Monarch field. Gary was outstanding both on the field and at the plate.

Jim Fitzurka, a two-year letterman, is about to make a fast double play against Greenfield. Jim was a fine help in the infield as a third baseman this season.

Senior third baseman Jeff McCollum makes a leaping catch of a line drive. Jeff was one of the main men in the Monarch's hitting attack.

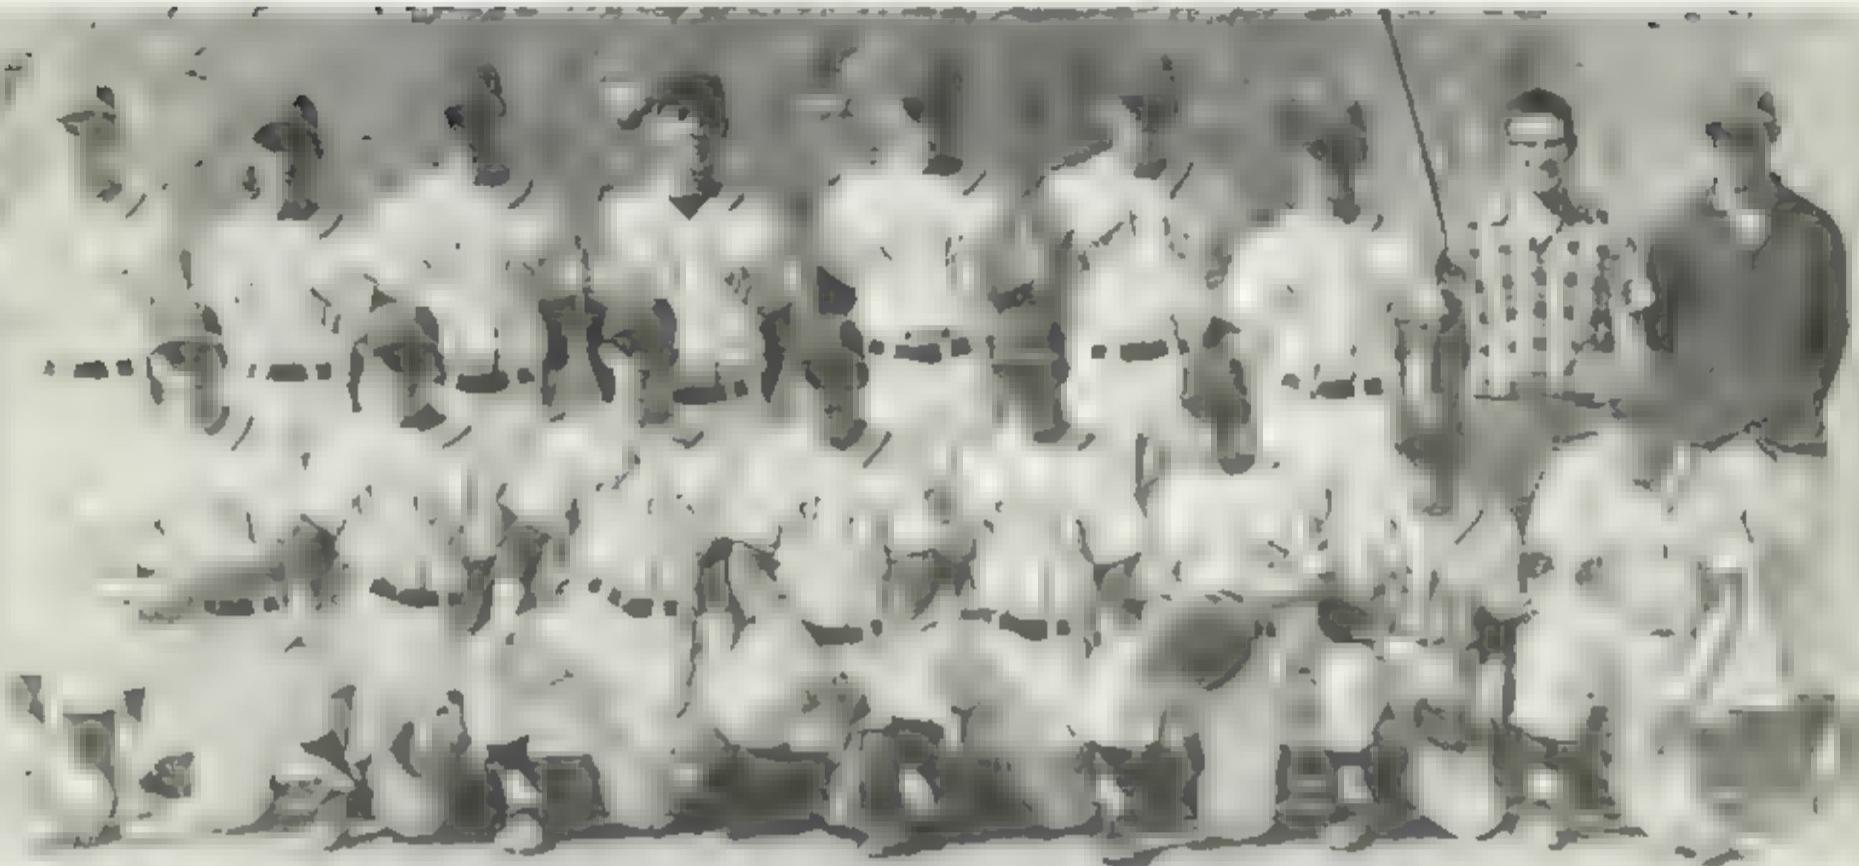

Catching a fly ball is Jim Dierkop, a senior center fielder. Jim was out in center field to try and fill up the hole the Monarchs had this year.

Picking up a routine ground ball is senior right fielder Tim Lutz. This was Tim's first year on the varsity.

Three healthy girls of the Monarch girls' swim team bend poised for action. The team enthusiastically ignored the cold air and water during practice and competition.

The fifth period girls' gym class kicked away at a soccer ball during the winter. Monarch girls are offered a great variety of sports and participate in many during the year. The "modified sarapes" are called pennies and serve to distinguish one team from another.

WHO SAYS GIRLS ARE FRAGILE?

Since time began, the female of the species has been called weak, spineless, something less than intelligent, and definitely meant for the stove and sink. But M. V.'s women have changed all that. The soft, delicate look of Monarch girls ends as they enter the gym doors. Within ten minutes they are transformed into robust, eager sports fans ready to exert themselves on the tennis courts, on the baseball diamonds, in a swimming pool, on the ping-pong tables, or before the modern dance mirrors. The tennis and swimming teams braved sore muscles to challenge other schools. But the most publicized girl athletes are the go-getters on the Junior and Senior basketball teams. They seriously practice for weeks before the celebrated event and the result is definitely not a bevy of fragile females.

Organized last year, the girls' tennis team weathered many mishaps to emerge full of spirit and eager to play. When difficulties arose over new insurance regulations the team ceased activity for a while. But later the girls again faced the net with President Chris Daggett and Secretary Marie Williams leading the way. The girls held their own against other schools in an all league tournament and emerged with a good record.

DISTRICT SUPERVISORS BOARD OF TRUSTEES

The Grossmont District is administered by the five members of the Board of Trustees, Dr. John F. Warburton, District Superintendent, and Mr. Harold G. Hughes, Associate Superintendent. The Board formulates policies to which the eight schools in the district are to adhere. The Associate Superintendent controls the finances, buildings, and maintenance of all the schools. He is in charge of the number and schedules of the buses, and the desks, cabinets, and other furniture in the rooms. The Superintendent keeps a close check on all the functions of both the Associate Superintendent and the Board. He is hired by the Board, which is an elected body responsible to him.

This year saw a new school in the district. Santana was constructed to relieve El Capitan's over-enrollment problem. Because of this split and Monte Vista's boundary change, we are no longer the smallest school in the district, but boast 1440 students with a capacity for 1800.

Also during 1965, Mr. Lewis F. Smith retired. As the Superintendent for many years, he played a major part in the early development of the district.

The Faculty Senate, under the chairmanship of Monte Vista's Mr. Craig Warner, was very productive in passing bills concerning school policies and regulations.

MONTE VISTA ADMINISTRATION

At Monte Vista, Mr. McClintic, our principal, enforces the district policies. He represents the Monarchy at meetings, including those of the PTA, and also chooses the teachers.

Vice-Principal Mr. Divine is an equally important facet of the administration. He is the vital link between students, counselors, parents, and principal, and is responsible for carrying out district regulations for student behavior.

MR. DIVINE
Vice-Principal

The secretaries of these two men work closely with them. Mr. McClintic's secretary, Mrs. Armstrong, handles telephone calls and the school correspondence from the principal's office. Mr. Divine's secretary, Mrs. Papendieck, is a familiar and similarly occupied figure in the office.

LION-HEARTED COUNSELORS

Our four friendly, hardworking counselors are interested in the vocational, educational, personal and social aspects of each student's years at Monte Vista. They advise on choosing a career suited to each individual's capabilities and on courses aimed toward this goal.

Mr. Cordry, the smiling senior counselor and the biggest Dodger fan on campus, is kept busy informing the class of '66 of scholarships, college applications, employment opportunities, and the military services, in addition to his other responsibilities. Mrs. Martin, junior counselor, is always available to students wishing program changes or advice. Mr. Cates, sophomore counselor and outdoorsman of the four, is familiar with the aptitudes and weaknesses of the sophomores after two years of "getting acquainted." Mr. Peace, freshman counselor, utilizes his many talents to guide his 438 responsibilities through high school and on to their chosen work.

MONARCH SECRETARIES

Our seven secretaries make the affairs of Monte Vista run smoothly. They also know many Monarchs personally and are a source of information for questions about the school. The Receptionist, Mrs. Ditomaso, operates the switchboard, makes appointments, and types the bulletin. The Counselors' Secretary, Mrs. Du Mond, handles the correspondence and student requests of the four counselors. Mrs. Huckins, the Bookkeeper, is in charge of the Monte Vista sweaters, A&B cards, lunch loans, and novelties. She and the Commissioner of Finance join forces to insure efficient and accurate sales and records. Mrs. Jones, the Library Clerk, keeps track of all textbooks and library books. The Duplication Clerk, Mrs. McFRESH, mimeographs tests, bulletins, and other school notices. She also checks out materials such as rubber bands, paper, and scissors, to classes. Mrs. Rudluff, the Records Clerk, keeps a file of the scholastic record of each Monarch. She computes class standings, and forwards copies of the transcript to colleges at the request of seniors. The Attendance Clerk, Mrs. Wallace, re-admits students who have been absent and organizes the master absence list.

CLASSIFIED STAFF

The clean and attractive appearance of our campus is due to the efforts of our nine custodians, including the crew chief and head custodian, and three grounds men. Under the direction of Mr. Platt, Plant Manager, they are responsible for cleaning the classrooms and grounds, making necessary repairs, and caring for the lawns, trees, and shrubs on campus. Alternating each week, one man works on Saturday to insure the security of the school and to make the school facilities available to personnel.

Mr. Platt regulates the physical operation of the plant with the cooperation of the head custodian-groundsman. This includes making sure the school is clean and ready for students in the morning. Other responsibilities include controlling and formulating the budget, and ordering necessary equipment and supplies.

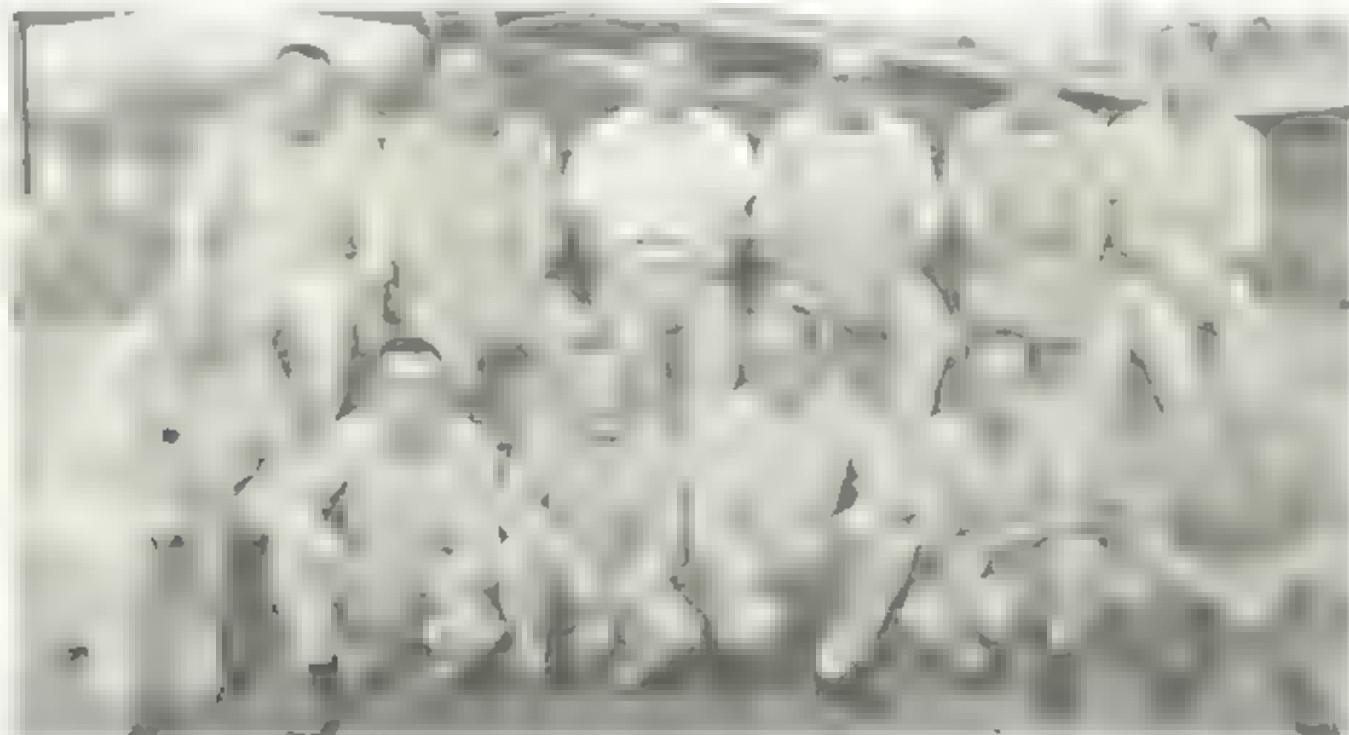

Our busy cafeteria workers provide complete hot lunches and an assortment of individually purchased items. Students sell the food during both lunches and receive a free hot lunch for volunteering their services. A lunch line is open after school to ward off hunger on the way home for walking or starving Monarchs.

Well, You're the greatest, stay that way
Be good the summer and I'll see you next year.
Hugs Ya
Becky

Cicki

It's nice to have things we can't wait to give through the mail.

Stay as sweet as you have been all year. God bless and have a good summer.

To Cicki

Glickie
I didn't get to know you to well. But I will try to find time.
We had a great time.
I will write you
when we get home.
Next year we will try

Vicki,
Roses are red
Pickles are green
My face is a holler.
But you're a wonder (not really)

I can't put in words how I feel about you. They won't let you use that kind of language in school

Y.F. don't step on the green

Kathy Kucher

Vickie
Please thank Kathy for her good work and take care

Vicki,
I've enjoyed knowing
you. Keep you're sweet personality. I hope I get to know you better.

Good Luck
Shirley Hescock

Vicki,

It's been nice walking to school with you - you a sweet, nice, kind, generous kid, now do you want to hear the bad points, not wont put them. Good luck in the 10th.

kind and six eggs class
bring in 3 of my class
Hope to see you next yr
Xtreme love ya"

We have had a few for long time but never picked up
you until recently
with input from Mr.
Carruthers from C.W.L.

Vickie
The year you spent in Germany, I hope you will have
as good a time
back in the States
next year.
Send me the post card when you get home.

Tracy Will send you next week
a copy of the newspaper from our local summer
camp school.

It's been nice knowing
you in Spanish. Good luck in the following years

Fifth year

Vicki.

IT'S BEEN NICE KNOWING
YOU, AND HAVING LEARNING WITH YOU, BECAUSE YOU WERE IN MY CLASS.

Lucky
you!

Vicki, 0-100-666
It's been fun knowing you the past three years and I hope I will see you next year.
Good bless you &
Good Luck!

Vicki

It's been a blast
in gym and if you're lucky you won't get it with me next year!

Charming
boy

We had a nice day & snow at the beach. We had a lot of fun & I think we had a great time. We spent most of the day
over here & I enjoyed our trip to Robert Wood Johnson.

I hope you're having a good year & I hope you're having a lot of fun & learning a lot of new things this year.
See you in Cindy's little

Vicki,
It's been a short
second letter.
We're still in the same place
this year.
Also, I've seen
Cindy.

Vicki,
It's been nice
knowing you & class
hope I'll next year have a time for Patricia

Yours

We hope you have a good week

Yours sincerely

I have seen great this however now I hope
last 3 were good
I see now more good luck and take it easy Bill "G"

Nickie, it's been nice to knowing you this year. I think you're a real nice girl. Good luck in the following years at Monte Vista.

Dear Vickie
I've just known
you for a little while from what I know you are a very sweet girl.
good Luck with the Boy
Love always

Dear Vicki -
So far I've got this page all to myself! I think you're a real person and very sweet, (and cute too!) and I hope I'll see you a lot next year.
Have a fun summer & don't get sunburned - By,

To Vickie
It has been an honor
since knowing you the past year I hope we are good friends next year I have many plans to like you I will see you especially during bandette this year
Good Luck in your new job for me

Dear Vickie
I am so sorry to hear about your mom's passing.
She was a wonderful
woman and will be missed.

~~Vickie
Good Year and a new Life never ever change of loose we can become better friends next year
Good luck always!~~
